

Disaster Recovery Centers Remain Open to Provide Wildfire Disaster Assistance

Release Date: Mars 12, 2025

LOS ANGELES –Los Angeles County wildfire survivors who need assistance can stop by a Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) to apply for disaster assistance, speak with a FEMA representative, speak to representatives from other state and federal agencies, and receive updates on their FEMA application. Both DRCs remain open until further notice.

DRCs are located at:

- UCLA Research Park West
10850 West Pico Blvd.
Los Angeles, CA 90064
Open Mon. – Sat.: 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
- Altadena Disaster Recovery Center
540 West Woodbury Rd.
Altadena, CA 91001
Open Mon. – Sat.: 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Disaster Recovery Centers are physically accessible to people with disabilities and others with access and functional needs. They are equipped with assistive technology and other resources to help ensure all applicants can access resources.

Visiting a DRC is just one way to receive assistance. You can also apply or update your application online at DisasterAssistance.gov or by using the FEMA app. You may also call the FEMA Helpline at 1-800-621-3362.
