Insurance Auto Dialer

Release Date: September 19, 2018

ST. CROIX, Virgin Islands – FEMA wants eligible survivors to receive all their assistance. Virgin Islanders may receive a phone call as a reminder that survivors affected by hurricanes Irma and Maria have up to 12 months from the date of registration to submit insurance settlement documents, exclusion, or a denial letter, especially if there has been a 30 day or more delay. FEMA has been working with the territory to identify short and long-term housing assistance options to meet the individual needs of survivors.

- Please fax your insurance documents to 800-827-8112 or mail copies to FEMA, PO Box 10055, Hyattsville, MD 20782-8055 or upload the documents at DisasterAssistance.gov.
- If you have any questions, please contact FEMA at 800-621-3362. If you have a speech or hearing disability and use 711 or Video Relay Service (VRS), call 800-621-3362.

TTY: 800-462-7585.
