

FEMA's Recovery Efforts on the Island Continue with Funds Obligated for 153 Projects

Release Date: June 23, 2020

131 of the allocations are for permanent projects in municipalities totaling over $37 million

GUAYNABO, Puerto Rico – Several municipalities on the island will benefit from 131 permanent project allocations with funds approved by FEMA and Puerto Rico's Central Office for Recovery, Reconstruction and Resilience, or COR3. The obligations during the week of June 12-18 total more than $45 million in additional funding for 153 projects related to the recovery and reconstruction of Puerto Rico after Hurricane María.

Among the recent grants are over $2 million for the municipality of Vieques to repair its City Hall, Fine Arts Center, the J. Gautier Benitez Public School, the Victor Duteil School and Electronic Library, the Eugenio María de Hostos School and its Multipurpose Center. The latter is where about 100 people join to celebrate the high school class graduation each year and where FEMA provided assistance in the wake of the 2017 hurricane season. These historic buildings encompass more than 110 years of cultural heritage and have withstood hurricanes San Felipe, Hugo and now María. To date, close to $43 million has been awarded for different permanent work projects in Vieques.

“These projects will benefit the 8,000 residents of Vieques, which include a series of buildings that house essential, government and social services such as voting centers, CESCO, CRIM, patent payments, Section 8, municipal communications and federal programs. Half of the City Hall was rendered inoperable after María, but these funds will revitalize operations,” said Victor Emeric, mayor of Vieques.

Similarly, about $1.9 million was approved for the Arroyo Convention Center which has a capacity for about 650 people. For the mayor of Arroyo, Eric Bachier Román, this project is key for the community and the municipality's economic activity. “Beginning with the first phase of reconstruction and mitigation of our convention center shows that our hard work, our commitment to the people is generating results. Without a doubt, it is this process of developing our heritage that we are focusing on,” he said.

On the other hand, an allocation of over $87,000 was approved to the municipality of Adjuntas for paving and other work in the PR-129 road, located in the Portillo Abajo Sector in Barrio Portillo. The rural roadway gives access to some 10 families that will benefit from these repairs.

Part of these funds will be used to prevent future damage by investing in hazard mitigation measures that will make structures stronger and more resilient. To this end, the municipality of Vieques proposes the installation of an anchorage system for the air conditioning division units and a membrane roof system as a mitigation measure for the various projects of the municipality. Meanwhile, Arroyo is considering installing storm shutters on four glass windows. Also, the construction of new roadside curbs and concrete gutters on the Adjuntas road are measures that are being taken to minimize the risks associated with future disasters.

The most recent approved grants are as follows:

- Over $14 million for repairs to roads and bridges.
- Nearly $12 million for repairs to parks and recreational facilities.
- Nearly $12 million for repairs to public buildings and equipment.
- Over $4 million for emergency protective measures.
- Nearly $3 million for debris removal.
- Over $227,000 for public utilities.
- Over $34,000 to municipalities and government agencies for administrative costs.

FEMA works with COR3 through the federal agency's Public Assistance program to obligate recovery funds to private nonprofit organizations, municipalities and agencies of the Government of Puerto Rico for expenses related to Hurricanes Irma and Maria. To date, nearly $6.9 billion has been awarded to Puerto Rico as part of FEMA's Public Assistance program.
