Rumor: Compensation from the Claims Office is taxable.

Fact: The Hermit's Peak/Calf Canyon Fire Assistance Act says compensation received from the Claims Office is NOT considered income under tax laws. The Act generally exempts your compensation from all taxes – federal, state, and local.

- Section 104(h)(4) of the Hermit's Peak/Calf Canyon Fire Assistance Act states: No Effect on Entitlements – The value of compensation that may be provided under this Act shall not be considered income or resources for any purpose under any Federal, State, or local laws, including laws relating to taxation, welfare, and public assistance programs.
- The Claims Office cannot provide you with individual tax advice. Ask your tax advisor if you have questions.

Rumor: Claimants should wait until the Gross Receipt Tax waiver bill takes effect July 1, 2024, to sign their Proofs of Loss, to avoid paying that tax on their compensation.

Fact: Compensation received from the Claims Office generally is NOT taxable. Per the Hermit's Peak/Calf Canyon Fire Assistance Act, attorneys' fees are not compensable. Fees charged to claimants by an attorney, or other third-party representation, are the responsibility of the claimant. Per legislation, attorneys' fees are capped at 20% of the compensation a claimant receives. You may be required to pay other additional expenses depending on your agreement with your
