

Community Assistance RSF

After a disaster, communities must lead complex efforts to recover. The Community Assistance Recovery Support Function (CA-RSF) supports Tribes and localities by building relationships, providing training, and supporting efforts to plan, prioritize, and implement their recovery goals and objectives.

CA is one of six RSFs, established under the National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF), that support recovery efforts of states, local governments, tribes, and territories (SLTT) before, during and after disasters. The CA RSF is coordinated by FEMA and consists of a National Coordinator and team at FEMA Headquarters, Regional Coordinators in each of FEMA’s ten regions, and a cadre of staff available to deploy to disasters.

Before disasters occur, the CA team works to prepare SLTT partners to address recovery should a disaster happen. Regional CA Coordinators are primarily responsible for building awareness, engagement, and capacity for recovery management during non-disaster times. After disasters occur, CA teams can deploy to convene partners to meet the recovery needs of local or tribal governments for planning, capacity-building, and incorporating resilience.

Mission Statement

The [CA] RSF unifies and coordinates expertise and assistance programs from across the Federal Government as well as nongovernment partners to aid local and tribal governments in building their local capabilities to effectively plan for and manage recovery and engage the whole community in the recovery planning process.
